Dear Sami,

We understand the pain of migrating platforms all too well and will not hold it against you or your journal.

As long as the Review of Human Rights is only being indexed and not having its full text ingested, no agreement is necessary from our part. I can add your title to the queue, but it will take quite a bit of time before it appears in our databases.

Please feel free to show this email to the HEC as demonstration of your progress.

Best regards,

Rachel
